Teen Mystery Night XI and The Bella Cullen Project band come to Davis Library

Plano Public Library System will host Teen Mystery Night XI on Friday, Oct. 17 from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at Davis Library, 7501-B Independence Parkway. A second performance is planned on Saturday, Oct. 18 from 4 to 5:30 p.m. with a special concert by The Bella Cullen Project from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. The Bella Cullen Project is a band from Arlington, Texas, inspired by the “Twilight” book series by Stephenie Meyer.

This year’s mystery play, “Death Match of the Stars,” is an American Gladiator-style face-off, where celebrities compete in a battle of might and will – only one won’t reach the final round. Teens in sixth-grade and up are invited to come and help solve the murder mystery and name the culprit!

Registration is required for this free event and only pre-registered teens will be admitted. To register, call (972) 208-8000.

Teen Mystery Night is funded by Friends of the Plano Public Library. For more information, visit www.planolibrary.org or call (972) 208-8000.
