ATLANTA RHYTHM SECTION PLAYS PLANO Southern Rockers Visit Amphitheater at Oak Point Park

Plano's Concerts in the Park series will head musically south of the Mason/Dixon line when the Atlanta Rhythm Section hits town on Saturday, October 3 at 7:30 p.m. This music series is being presented in Plano's Amphitheater at Oak Point Park, 2801 E. Spring Creek Parkway, just east of Jupiter Road. Tickets are available at <http://planostages.tix.com>.

Along with their contemporaries, Lynyrd Skynyrd, the Atlanta Rhythm Section were considered legitimate successors to the Allman Brothers as 'kings of regional rock' in the 70's and 80's. Skillful musicianship and strong songwriting has always been great strengths of this band.

With 1978's "Champagne Jam", the band reached its commercial zenith. Top 20 hits over the years have included "So Into You", "Imaginary Lover", "Outside Woman Blues", "Spooky", "Homesick" and "I'm Not Gonna Let It Bother Me", among others. To sample their music, visit
