Tapped Out

A special screening of the movie, “Tapped,” is presented by Studio Movie Grill and the City of Plano at 6:30 p.m. on Monday, May 17 at Studio Movie Grill located at 4721 W. Park Boulevard near the corner of W. Park Boulevard and Preston Road.

Discover the issues surrounding bottled water and the bottled water industry.

Immediately following the screening, a panel of experts will be available to address questions and offer a local perspective about key issues about the bottled water industry in Texas and the manufacture of plastic bottles.

“There are many debates and issues with regard to the production and consumption of bottled water,” said Melissa Baird, Environmental Education Coordinator for the City of Plano. “This screening allows members of the audience to become aware of these issues, then participate in panel discussion with industry experts.”

Seating is limited for the screening and cost of admission is $2. To request a seat, contact Baird at melissab@plano.gov or call (972)769-4132. After requesting a seat, arrive and pay by 6:10 p.m. on Monday, May 17, otherwise seats will be released to individuals on the waiting list.
