

APRIL SHOWERS BRING MORE THAN MAY FLOWERS

Even after a mild Texas winter, spring is always a welcomed event. It is no wonder that trees are blooming, yards are becoming green, and flowerbeds are becoming lively again. Along with the warmer weather, rainstorms, and gusty winds come those extra chores that had been stopped because of the cooler temperatures.

Please remember that mowing season is at its beginning with alley ways already becoming weedy and overgrown. Keep those alley easements in mind when maintaining yards. These areas, should not only remain clear of trash and debris, but should be mowed regularly and any new landscaping should not be placed in these locations. If landscaping already exists in these areas it must be kept one foot back from the alley edge.

As you know, winter weather can take a toll on fences. Residents should take stock of their fences.

Fences that may have met minimum standards prior to an extended period of cold, rainy, windy weather may now require repair. If fences are leaning, showing signs of decay, or missing slats or sections, it is time for maintenance.

If you have any questions regarding any of the issues please do not hesitate to contact the Property Standards Department at 972-941-7124.
